

GOVERNMENT TO MAKE FINAL PLEA TO UNION HEADS

Stormy All Day Ses- sion Fails to Bring Results

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The government will make its final attempt to prevent the threatened general railroad strike tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock when presidents, general chairmen and executive committees of the five main service unions meet here at a conference reported to have been arranged at the instigation of the United States Railroad Labor Board. The board's investigation of the causes of the threatened strike ended abruptly at 8:30 to-night when the five union leaders refused permission to make an announcement to their men and then called tomorrow's meeting.

Union leaders tonight said that the meeting tomorrow had been called at the suggestion of Ben W. Hooper, vice chairman of the board, and that they expected him to personally present a final proposition from the board. Mr. Hooper refused to confirm or deny this. Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the board, said that his decision on today's hearing might be rendered tomorrow and certainly would be forthcoming by the next day.

Each of the presidents of the five transportation group unions said, however, that the prospects for a settlement "certainly were no better than they were this morning," while two went farther declaring that the "clouds were darker than ever."

It was understood that the board would make the following proposals to the unions tomorrow:

Want Strike Called Off

That the unions suspend or call off the strike ordered for next Sunday and based on the wage cut made last July pending decisions by the board on further wage cuts or on revision of the rules which the employees fear the roads will ask. The roads have already announced their intention of seeking a ten per cent wage cut for the train service men in addition to the 12 per cent slash of last July. Many roads have indicated a desire to abrogate time and a half for overtime also.

Throughout the hearing today the union leaders insisted fear of changes in rules and fear of further wage reductions had influenced their men in voting to strike. The board is understood to be prepared to urge that the fear of something which may happen in the future is not sufficient grounds for a strike and that the men cannot lose anything by waiting for those decisions to be rendered.

The unexpected ending of the board's hearing after little more than an hour has been devoted to taking testimony of the railroads' side followed a series of whispered conferences among the union leaders.

W. G. Lee, president of the Trainmen, asked permission to make an announcement to his general chairmen, 160 of whom were present. He called them to meet here tomorrow at 9 o'clock.

Warren S. Stone of the Engineers, L. E. Sheppard of the Conductors, W. S. Carter of the Firemen and H. C. Cashen of the Switchmen made similar announcements and after a brief statement from Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the labor board to the effect that the board's decision as to whether the unions had violated the July 1 wage cut order would be handed down either tomorrow or Friday, the meeting was adjourned.

No Comment By Union Heads

Whether the proposal which the board is expected to make tomorrow can prevent the strike was a question no union official would comment on. Throughout the hearing today they reiterated their previous declarations that they could not call off the strike unless a "satisfactory settlement" was reached, and they defined such a settlement as revocation of the wage cut of July 1, payment to the men of the wages they have lost as a result of that cut and a prompt end by the roads not to seek further wage reductions or changes in rules for a stated period.

Board members declined to comment on the union meetings to be held tomorrow, but others pointed out that the general chairmen, grand officers and executive committees who will be in attendance have the power to call off the strike without reference to any other body. Throughout the hearing today, Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the board's judiciary committee developed in his examination of the union presidents that fear of future wage cuts or rules changes was the impelling motive behind the over-whelming strike majority, rather than opposition to the twelve per cent wage reduction of last July. Each president declared he did not accept the July cut, but that it alone would probably not have been enough to cause a strike.

MAJOR TURNER TELLS OF MANY NATIVES KILLED

Says 2,500 Lost Their Lives In Action in Haiti

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Since the American occupation of Haiti about six years ago, 2,500 natives have been killed "in action," Major T. C. Turner of the Marine Corps estimated today during testimony at a hearing of the special senate committee investigating conditions in Haiti. Of that number 1,132 were killed between October 1, 1919 and October 1, 1920.

Altho he had made the investigation as sweeping as possible he explained he could find no evidence of the killing of natives held as prisoners by the Americans.

"That there were killings was undoubtedly true," he said, "and many of them can be directly traced to Major Clark H. Wells, (a marine officer) but these were not prisoners but were natives trying to escape from the Corvee, or enforced road work."

Major Turner stated that non-commissioned officers of the marines who acted as officers of the gendarmes were reported to have received instructions from Major Wells to bump off the Cascos who were regarded as bandits.

In reply to a question the major stated that he was of the opinion that there were executions of natives without trial.

He denied that evidence could be found that prisoners were roughly handled. When asked for his opinion of the report that Captain Ernest Lavoie of the marines had taken 15 to 19 natives at a cemetery and ordered their execution by machine guns, the major replied that he "believed that may have happened."

He added that Captain Lavoie had denied the killing.

"The airplanes were used by the marines in scouting. Major Turner said and bombs were carried as well as machine guns. The natives gathered in such small groups, however, he added, that bombing was not effective."

BRIAND POLICIES ARE APPROVED

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Oct. 26.—The policies of the cabinet of Premier Briand were sustained by the chamber of deputies tonight when a vote of confidence resulted in 381 votes in favor of the government to 186 against it.

The vote of confidence in Premier Briand's cabinet is taken as an indication that he will head the French delegation to the coming conference on limitation of armaments and far eastern questions in Washington. Earlier in the present debate the French premier strongly hinted that unless he was given a majority of at least a hundred votes he would feel that he would not be backed up by the French nation at the conference table. He even indicated that unless such a majority were given him he might not attend the conference at all. Tonight's vote gave him a majority of 195 votes.

SAYS THE FARMER IS NOT BROKE

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Farmers have $15,000,000,000 to spend in 1922 and would have had about $22,000,000,000 if it were not for such things as transportation rates and depression, James O'Shaughnessy of New York, secretary of the Association of American Advertising Agents declared in an address before the agricultural publishers' association here today.

"The farmer isn't broke," he said, "His purchasing power is just bound and gagged by business agreeing with him that he is in a sorry plight."

"Why doesn't business tell him that he will emerge from the present predicament; that he can buy now with assurance that an adjustment is coming? The farmer got $15,000,000,000 for his 1921 crops. He'll get lots more in 1922. Keep on inflicting him with the germ of 'slow business' and he will wear his overcoat another season, forget that new automobile and make his present implements go a while longer."

HOUSE UP IN AIR OVER PROCEDURE IN BLANTON CASE

Mondell Says He Will Insist in Action On Resolution

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The house of representatives was up in the air tonight over the method of procedure tomorrow on a resolution calling for the ousting of Thomas L. Blanton, Democrat, of Texas, notwithstanding a statement by Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the Republican leader that it would be called up.

In the face of a plea from Republicans and Democrats alike for a resolution providing only for severe condemnation and censure, Mr. Mondell declared he would not turn back.

The resolution to expel Mr. Blanton for causing to be printed in our highest government publication of offensive and obscene matter, said Mr. Mondell, "will be called up at noon tomorrow. Mr. Blanton will be given an hour in his own defense. Four fifths of the Republicans will vote for his expulsion. I expect about two hours of debate on the resolution which cannot be amended or put aside for a substitute and I believe it will be adopted."

Some of the facts relating to the publication of Blanton's extension of remarks were revealed to members today by Mr. Mondell after conferring with the public printer. The Texan had been given the right by the house to print a speech in the government printing office, which was not made on the floor.

"The manuscript was turned over to the printer's agent late Saturday," Mr. Mondell said, "and on it was written the notice 'print in tonight's record without fail.' The copy did not reach the compositors until nearly midnight, and when they found the affidavit which was made a part of the speech with many obscene words, the man in charge called up the public printer, who informed him that he had no power to stop its publication. Consequently thirty odd thousand copies went everywhere."

In East Sacramento a number of houses under construction were demolished or were badly damaged by the wind. The crash of the buildings and of broken glass alarmed housewives throughout the stricken district but eerily reports indicated no one had been injured.

TWO ARE KILLED IN GUN BATTLE AT ST. JOSEPH

Negro Barricades Himself In House and Kills Officer

(By The Associated Press)
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 26.—A. M. Hall, a police desk clerk was killed, Thomas Johnson, chief of detectives, probably fatally wounded and Clay C. McDonald, chief of police and Edward Eads, a detective slightly wounded here late today in a gun fight with Carlos Henderson, a young negro, who barricaded himself in a house and was later shot to death by a large crowd of police and former service men.

The negro's body was riddled with bullets after the fire department had set fire to the house where he was hiding. The shooting followed attempts of Detective Eads and a companion to arrest the negro, whom they suspected of having committed a robbery. Barricading himself in the house at the approach of the officers, Henderson opened fire wounding Detective Eads. The wounded detective's companion sent in a riot call which was responded to by Chiefs McDonald, Johnson, Clerk Hall and a number of patrolmen.

The officers surrounded the house and began shooting into the building. Henderson fired back and in the exchange of shots Hall was killed and Chiefs Johnson and McDonald wounded. Meantime crowds began gathering. In the groups were many former service men who procured rifles or revolvers and joined the police in their efforts to arrest the negro.

The fire department was summoned and the building was set ablaze. Henderson, revolver in hand appeared at a second story window. A bullet from a big army rifle in the hands of a policeman carried away part of the negro's head. The body toppled thru the window and as it fell bullets rained into it from all directions.

SOUTH FLORIDA STORM TOLL RUNS INTO MILLIONS

Estimate the Loss to Property at Over $3,- 000,000

(By The Associated Press)
LAKEYLAND, Fla., Oct. 26.—South Florida spent today in recapitulating the damage, estimated to run well into millions of dollars, caused by the gulf hurricane which yesterday tore across Florida's peninsula. At times attaining a velocity of 70 miles an hour the gale carved destruction in its wake but only in a few instances, according to late reports, causing loss of life.

Of the cities and towns within a radius of forty miles of Lakeland, that could be reached by wire, Tampa appears to have suffered the greatest damage. The Bay Shore drive residential section from Franklin Street to Port Tampa is an panorama of destruction. Trees are down, houses with roofs torn away and foundations weakened from the tidal wave that swept in over the sea wall from Tampa Bay have collapsed and logs and other debris swept in on the onrushing waters' crest now cover what were once the beautiful lawns of the Hyde Park section, one of Tampa's most fashionable suburbs.

Along the water front large sections of the sea wall were swept away and parts of streets were washed into the bay. Houses immediately adjoining the Boulevard were crushed in by the gale without apparent resistance. Sunset beach, a popular resort of Tampa, was completely destroyed.

Here and there throughout the city are stranded street cars, the victims of the sudden failing of the city's power plant. Telephone and electric light wires dangle in a tangled mass, giving little hope of an early resumption of service. Conservative estimates place the damage in Tampa proper at $3,000,000.

REPEAL OF EXCESS PROFITS TAX MADE CERTAIN BY SENATE

Adopt Provision for Collection Only for This Year

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Repeal of the excess profits tax as of next January first, was made certain today with the adoption by the senate without a record vote of a provision in the tax revision bill providing only for its collection this calendar year. The provision adopted is a substitute for the excess profits section of the existing law.

Before accepting the original provision in the bill the senate voted down, 42 to 31, an amendment by Senator Reed, proposing that for 1921 and thereafter the excess profits tax be twenty per cent on the net income of corporations, between fifteen per cent and fifty per cent of the invested capital and forty per cent on the net income in excess of 50 per cent. Six Republicans joined with the solid Democratic minority in supporting the amendment. They were Borah, Johnson, Kenyon, LaFollette, Norbeck and Norris.

The senate also voted down 42 to 32. Another amendment by Senator Reed, proposing that the excess profits tax be twenty per cent of the net income in excess of 50 per cent of the invested capital. Eight Republicans Borah, Capper, Johnson, Kenyon, LaFollette, McNary, Norbeck and Norris, supported this amendment and one Democrat, Glass, opposed it.

Other Amendments Today.

Having disposed of the excess profits section of the bill the senate proceeded to consideration of the corporation income tax under an unanimous consent agreement that it would dispose of one the calendar day tomorrow all amendments to this section except that offered by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts. The Walsh amendment proposes in lieu of the 15 per cent income tax on corporations recommended by the finance committee a graduated tax as follows:

Twelve and one half per cent on the net income up to $100,000; 15 per cent on the net income between $100,000 and $300,000; twenty per cent between $300,000 and $500,000 and 25 per cent on the amount in excess of $500,000.

A committee amendment limiting after next January 1st, the $2,000 exemption now allowed corporations, to corporations having net income of $25,000 or less, was adopted without objection or a record vote.

As a result of the unanimous consent agreement, the Republicans held in abeyance their plans to force a continuous session and the senate adjourned at 5:30 p. m., until 11 a. m., tomorrow.

PRIEST GOES ON ERRAND OF MERCY

IS SHOT TO DEATH

Was Called to Administer Last Sacraments to Dying Man

(By The Associated Press)
LEAD, S. D., Oct. 26.—The body of Father A. B. Belknap, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral here was found early today on "poor man's gulch" highway just outside the city limits of Lead. A bullet from a large caliber revolver had pierced his heart. The priest had been lured to his death by a man a few minutes before who had appealed to him to administer the last sacraments of the church to a sick man. Bloodhounds were on the way from Mitchell, S. D., tonight and when they arrive Deputy Sheriff Warren Owen announced he will take up the search for the murderer.

Altho officials worked all day in efforts to solve the mystery of the killing they admitted tonight they had made little progress. It was about 3:15 o'clock this morning when a man rang the bell at the door of Bishop J. J. Lawler's residence, where Father Belknap lived. The young priest answered the call and found a stranger who asked him to come to the home of a dying friend and administer the last sacraments.

Father Belknap went to his garage to get his automobile. His visitor accompanied him. The starter on the car would not work and after a little delay the pair left the garage afoot.

That was the last occupants of the bishop's residence heard of the priest until his body was found half an hour later. It lay in the roadway, face downward. A large bruise on the back of the priest's head indicated he had been struck from behind and there was a bullet thru the heart.

Bishop Lawler declared tonight Father Belknap had no enemies and had never received any threats.

Father Belknap was born in Jackson county, Iowa, on a farm, July 4, 1891. He was ordained five years ago and was assigned to the diocese of Lead. He served as pastor at Owl Creek and Belle Fourche before being assigned to duty as rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral in Lead three years ago.

HARDING TELLS SOUTH VIEW ON RACE QUESTION

Receives Great Ova- tions Thruout a Busy Day

(By The Associated Press)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 26.—North and South, whites and blacks were administered by President Harding here today to put aside old prejudices and pretenses and set the face of the nation courageously toward a constructive and permanent solution of the race problem.

In a sweeping presentation of his views which was received with varying manifestations of emotion by a crowd of several thousand whites and negroes, the president declared social equality between the races must not be considered a possibility but that the blackman must have an increased political, economic and educational opportunity if the American nation is to live true to its traditions of democracy.

The address, one of five delivered by the president during a day's visit to the Birmingham semi-centennial celebration was driven home with vigorous gesture and deliberate utterance such as Mr. Harding seldom has employed since he became chief executive. He spoke with a manifest determination to drive his shafts to the heart of social disagreements and to make the pronouncement one of the most plain spoken of his administration.

The crowd whom he appeared before was packed in the inadequate confines of Woodrow Wilson park, and many hundreds on the outskirts, apparently unable to hear, kept up a hub bub which made his declarations inaudible to all but those who were close by. Repeated bursts of cheering swept the segregated sections allotted to the negroes as they caught portions of the speech relating to political and economic opportunity. In the white section there were occasional ripples of applause as the significance of a phrase here and there was realized and pondered by those near the speaker.

Intensive Demonstrations

In other parts of the city during a day crowded with events of many varieties, Mr. Harding was received with a succession of intensive demonstrations. For a mile he rode thru surging crowds in a street parade a roar of cheering accompanying him from start to finish. He was cheered nearly a minute when he appeared to speak at a luncheon, before the park address and he received repeated applause when he appeared clad in scholastic cap and gown and addressed the students of Birmingham Southern College and then wearing a Masonic apron he laid the cornerstone of a new Masonic Temple.

Throughout the day the president insisted that his visit to the heart of the South was wholly non-partisan and everywhere he was accompanied by Senator Underwood, leader of the Alabama Democratic party, and a member of the Alabama legislature.

The speech on the race problem about which centered the interest of the many thousands who are here to celebrate the semi-centennial, was a carefully prepared deliverance setting forth the president's views in direct terms. He appealed to the Republican party to desist from "demagoguery" in making the black man a mere adjunct of Republicanism; warned the South that blacks should vote "when fit to vote," and insisted that there must be equal educational opportunity. Against social equality he urged both races to stand "uncompromisingly" and suggested that "natural segregation

The brotherhood representatives at the conference of the railroad were board yesterday expressed the view that "no power on earth can prevent a walkout Saturday except an agreement to meet the wishes the workers have outlined."

That was a pretty broad and bold statement and one cannot but wonder if the big chiefs really meant it. Anyway the public feels quite secure in the belief that there will be no strike at this time.

Henry Ford recently had a most interesting statement as to how the railroads of the country should be run. Whether or not the methods he employed on his own road in Michigan would apply to the big systems is a matter for discussion by men of experience. One suggestion the automobile manufacturer makes is that light trains instead of heavy should be run as a matter of efficiency and economy.

Mr. Ford has demonstrated his belief in manufacturing of a light car instead of a heavy one for traffic, and evidently he believes the same principle should be applied to the railroads. But these things are not comparable. Furthermore, it is not recored that Mr. Ford rides in a car of his own manufacture.

The Department of Commerce reports that one trade commission enabled an American caller to obtain for his firm the contracts for very important electrical installations in Czechoslovakia. A commercial attaché secured the release of $290,000 worth of American securities that had been seized under a technicality. Another attaché saved American shoppers more than 1,000,000 Spanish pesetas by securing the entry of 2,275 American automobiles at the old, lower customs rate. The Department's Berlin office estimates that its trade promotional efforts have netted nearly $2,000,000 of business for American firms.

In accordance with the wishes of the postmaster general, surveys are being made by the postman in many cities to show just how many households are without mail boxes or other receptacles for the receipt of their letters. If the placing of boxes will make the tasks of postmen lighter and add to the efficiency of the service, postal patrons should not be at all slow in complying with the wishes of the department.

A report issued not long since shows that miners during the past year worked an average of 152 days. This is a little less than half time out of the 312 working days in a year, and supports the statement of some miners that that they have reason to be more interested in steady employment than they are as to the wage scale paid.

However, before there can be steady employment some system must be evolved for creating steady average of demand, instead of having it vary with industrial and weather conditions.

Quality Overcoats

Tailored-to-Measure

$35.00

What is quality?

In clothing, as in the man who wears it, quality is the one thing that endures.

Quality is the element which made the voice of Caruso more wonderful than all the rest; which makes one violin better than another; a man more of a man for rubbing elbows with the world; and a garment made in this shop so much better.

Wear a Jacksonville Tailoring Company made garment until it is frayed, if you will, but you cannot destroy the hang of it, nor the grace of its lines.

Eventually even the finest of fabrics will be destroyed, but you cannot wear out quality workmanship—that's what we build into all garments.

This picture teaches you the meaning of the well-worn phrase, "It runs the gamut of human emotions"—For it has most everything worth-while in its splendid story Charles Ray registers a smashing hit in "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway" It is bigger and better than all other Ray offerings. An ex-prize fighter battles with his wits against many crooked enemies of his pal. His knockout evidence convicts one faker while he administers a solar plexus to the hopes of a fortune hunting mother and daughter, batters his way into the heart of the girl he loves and wins the fight for justice for his friend and sweetheart through alertness, loyalty and courage. Kid Burns, the former pugilist, is one of the most refreshing characters the screen has produced in a long time.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the unimpairedly effective result. Take one of the tablets nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

YOUNG MAN SLUGGED AT WHITE HALL IMPROVING

White Hall, Oct. 26.—The condition of Martin McLamarr has improved since the slugging he received in the railroad yards at Roodhouse Sunday night. He has been unconscious practically all the time, until lately, when he has brief periods of consciousness. He was found lying on his face in the vicinity of the lee house at Roodhouse shortly after 10 o'clock Sunday night.

He evidently had been struck on the back of the head a short time before being found, and was brought to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. McLamarr, residing three miles southwest of White Hall.

His age is twenty years. He was known to have $22.50 on his person, and this and his bill book are missing.

A couple of weeks ago the young man had his auto taken from White Hall, but it was found the following morning. His parents own the well known George North farm.

WHAT IS HOLDING BACK SETTLEMENT IN THE PACIFIC
Anglo-Japanese Alliance is Cause Says Northcliffe
LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Anglo-Japanese alliance "undoubtedly is the dominating factor which now prevents an unfettered attempt by Great Britain, Japan and the United States to solve the problems of the Pacific," declared Lord Northcliffe to a Reuters correspondent, who interviewed the noted British publisher in Hong Kong yesterday. The interview was cabled to London today.

According to the correspondent's dispatch, Lord Northcliffe gave as a reason for his opinion that the alliance placed the United States "outside of the very definite arrangements for the control of China."
"During the last two years," the publisher is quoted as having said, "I have been gradually coming to the conclusion that the Anglo-Japanese alliance has run its usefulness. Japan faithfully carried out the compact during the war, and she has been well rewarded for her services. The purpose of the Washington conference is to reach a mutual agreement, but the United States is handicapped by an arrangement already made by Japan and Great Britain concerning the chief problem of the Pacific."

"A prolongation of the alliance only serves to irritate public and official opinion in the United States, merely humiliates China and adds nothing to the prestige of Great Britain in Asia."
"It cannot assist in establishing cooperation as a means of helping China out of the present chaos and it prevents reconciliation of the diverging interests of Japan and the United States. At present China cannot give satisfactory national guarantees so there is urgent necessity for making international assistance to China a practical possibility."

TRUMAN GIBSON DAMAGES TRUCK
Truman Gibson damaged the front of his Ford truck Tuesday evening quite badly, when the machine ran into the curbing on South Main street. Mr. Gibson was pulling out of the way of another car when he was blinded by the glaring headlights of some motorist who did not observe the traffic regulations, causing him to crash into the curbing.

Certitude
Some Word That--
Look It Up--
We are not going to give you the definition here. It's your job to hunt it up. There is an instrument in existence which can detect pressure in a heartbeat. Maybe that's it. Look it up.
What we are getting at is this. When you want to know anything in this enlightened world, go to the people, the place or location where that knowledge exists and NOWHERE else.

We sell them with certitude. It's not new.
We are merely calling your attention to our method.

Look it up.

FRANCIS G. BLAIR MAKES FINE ADDRESS

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Speaks at Dedication of New Building—Praises Building and Congratulates City.

The great interest that the citizens of this city evidence in their wonderful new high school building was clearly shown at the dedication exercises for the Newton Bateman Memorial last evening. The auditorium of the building was crowded to capacity. Ample arrangements had been made to care for the audience, programs were passed out by high school students and some of the boys acted as ushers.

The exercises proceeded, according to the program, the first number being some selections by the high school boys' quartet, which includes Albert Arter, Russell Deatherage, Harry Stone and Edward Lewis. Dr. F. M. Rule gave the invocation, after which the High School Treble Clef club composed of twenty girls, sang a beautiful song.

President of the Board of Education, Julian P. Lippincott, then addressed the assembly with a few introductory remarks. After some humorous statements regarding his predicament in being called upon to deliver a speech, Mr. Lippincott said:

"To whom shall I extend a welcome? To you? But it is your building. You owned this block of ground. You elected to put up a building. You furnished the money. When your cash ran out, you borrowed enough to complete the work and gave your notes payable in from one to twenty years.

"The building belongs to you, the people of School District No. 117. The Board of Education is simply your servant. The effort has been to carry out your expressed wish. Most cordially do the members of the board welcome you to an inspection of their work.

Tells of Preliminary Steps. "The first step taken was to determine the capacity of the building desired and the several purposes it should serve. With the aid of the superintendent of our schools, Mr. H. Ambrose Perrin, a general scheme was adopted.

"The next step was to decide that we would avoid the dangers involved in selecting an architect as a matter of personal preference of a majority, only, and select the plan that should prove most satisfactory.

"To accomplish this we got in touch with the Illinois chapter of the American Institute of Architecture and were furnished an advisor to aid us in conducting a competition of plans in accordance with the methods of the institute.

"Under his direction we sent out requests for architects who wished to compete to submit evidence of their qualifications, save that local architects were assumed to be qualified.

"The plans were to be submitted without names, save that the name and address of the architect was to accompany the plans in a sealed envelope which was not to be opened until a plan had been selected. Two experts from offices of well known architects went over the plans and marked their merits according to a scale determined upon.

Mr. Lippincott then told of the balloting to choose the plan most acceptable with the result that Architect Joseph W. Royer, of Urbana was selected. The vote adopting the plans constituted a contract and the specifications, detailed drawings, letting of contracts followed and then the construction. Fortunately all of the concerns engaged proved to be of high class and well equipped.

The president told of the great efficiency of the board and how books were kept with such detail that the most insignificant things can be traced without any trouble.

Introduced Mr. Blair. In conclusion, Mr. Lippincott said: "In your behalf and in behalf of the Board of Education, permit me to welcome the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Hon. Francis G. Blair, who will now address you."

Mr. Blair's address was one of high inspiration and ideals, and full of good sound facts. This great memorial, he stated, is worth every cent it has cost, no matter what the price has been. The meaning and principles back of the enterprise were those of the highest progress and civilization. It represented a community to any organism or live body, stating that in a body if the proper amount of vitality is distributed throughout all of the portions, the mind will not be conscious of the body.

Only with congestion and improper distribution occurs, does the mind become cognizant of the body or a portion of it. In the same way does congestion, or uneven distribution of vitality, wealth, affect a community. But the wealth of a community is not only material, it is also intellectual and spiritual, and the greatest factors in the even distribution of this wealth, are the schools. So this great building with its fundamental purpose is well worth the cost, said the speaker.

The speaker said that he had searched in histories for the name of the person that thought of a tax, and said that he believed that tax is the greatest factor in the world to help in the even distribution of wealth. Tax has made possible this new school and thus a distribution of the great intellectual and spiritual wealth that is the inheritance left to all by the great men of the past and present.

Speaks of Bateman. Mr. Blair then told the audience that they should be proud of themselves and of their memorial to that great educator, Newton Bateman. He gave a brief outline of Newton Bateman's early life, describing his hardships while attending college here in Jacksonville. Newton Bateman, and his room mate, Dr. Willard found themselves with just forty-nine cents between them and facing the proposition of quitting college or borrowing money. They decided to do neither, and bought forty-nine cents worth of corn meal.

The put all of the corn meal in a big kettle, poured water over it and made mush. They lived on that mush for two weeks. The speaker said that during his college career, Newton Bateman changed his purpose in life from that of ministerial work to teaching. Mr. Blair said that he has often wondered if this decision came after he found that two people could live on forty-nine cents for two weeks.

Newton Bateman's rise was rather slow at first. He left college with the idea of selling articles, and struggled through some severe hardships. He was next heard of in St. Louis where he was beginning to find himself in educational work. He then returned to this city and was very successful in the institutions here and became county commissioner. From then on his great work was pronounced. He founded the Normal school system in this state, and led in the work of forming the state university. He went to Washington, D. C. and was instrumental in some of the great educational reforms.

The memorial in his honor is something of which he from the the heights which he now occupies, must indeed be a monument of which he is justly proud. It is also a monument to every citizen of Jacksonville, but even though all material things pass away, the greatest monuments of all will continue to live on down through the ages, in the minds of the students who will be taught the best things of life through the work of those who have made the great school possible.

Extends Congratulations. Mr. Blair ended his stirring address by congratulating the Board of Education, Jacksonville, and those present for their part in building the Newton Bateman Memorial.

Mrs. William Barr Brown sang very beautifully a group of songs as the last number of the program, accompanied by Miss Belle Mehms, of the Illinois Woman's college. Throughout the exercises the Board of Education were seated on the stage. President Rammelkamp, of Illinois college, Field Secretary of Washington University, Hawkins, Dr. F. M. Rule, County Superintendent of Schools H. H. Vasconcellos, Hon. Francis G. Blair and Mayor E. E. Crabtree were also seated on the stage.

After the exercises President Lippincott invited everyone to inspect the building. A large part of the audience accepted the invitation, and was assisted by members of the board and high school faculty, who explained the various departments.

TWO ACCIDENTS AT LITERBERRY

Blanche Louise Ratliff Breaks Arm in Fall—Harold Stice Has Collar Bone Broken By Fall From Porch.

Two children of the Literberry neighborhood met with painful accidents Wednesday while at play. Blanche Louise, the six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ratliff, fell and broke both bones of her right forearm while lying about 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The little girl was given the necessary attention by Dr. A. E. Obermeyer of Arcadia and was last night reported to be resting as comfortably as could be expected.

Harold, the two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Stice living two miles west of Literberry, fell from the porch at his home and sustained a broken collar bone. The accident happened early in the afternoon and Dr. Obermeyer was summoned to give the attention needed. Several weeks since the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stice sustained a broken leg and is not yet able to walk. This circumstance makes the later accident the more unfortunate.

JUSTICE In Justice Opperman's court Wednesday the case of C. E. Hudgin against Frank Horton was heard. The suit was one in which an alleged indebtedness of $40 for a baby buggy was involved. The case was heard by a jury composed of P. G. Stein, M. M. Crum, John T. Hoge, R. W. Megginson, S. T. Erickson and Robert Hawkins. The jury awarded the sum of $20 to Mr. Hudgin. W. W. Wright was attorney for Mr. Hudgin while W. T. Wilson represented Mr. Horton.

REVIVAL MEETINGS AT MURRAYVILLE CHURCH A special series of revival meetings began at the Murrayville M. E. church Wednesday night. The meetings are in charge of the pastor, Rev. F. L. Henninger, and his wife, and the attendance and interest the first night promise well for the series as a whole.

COMMUNITY PROGRAM AT NEW HIGH SCHOOL

ONE THOUSAND STUDENTS IN THE AUDIENCE

Speakers Laid Emphasis on New Opportunities. The Splendid Building Now Affords—A Tribute to Newton Bateman.

It was a wonderful audience of students that gathered for the audacious exercises of the Jacksonville high school building Wednesday morning at 10:45 o'clock. There were 1,000 in this inspiring audience that the several speakers faced.

H. A. Perrin, superintendent of schools, presided, and the program was of a kind to impress upon the young people what it means to have the educational opportunities that the handsome new building affords. Mr. Perrin made a brief statement with reference to the high school dedication program and voiced the pleasure that school authorities had in such a gathering.

The program began with a violin number by Lyndell Conboy, with Mr. Kritch as accompanist. There were brief addresses by J. P. Lippincott, Dr. Carl E. Black, Mayor E. E. Crabtree, Dr. Joseph R. Harker and Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp. A picture of the building was presented by Otto Spiehl.

President Lippincott of the Board of Education was then introduced and said in part: "I regard this as an opportunity of a lifetime. I can picture the appearance of such an audience but to look into your faces is a rare privilege. I recall two incidents to show how times have changed. Years ago a house opposite this place burned and the old time hand fire engine was the only means for fighting the flames and when the wells and cisterns gave out there was nothing more to be done but now see what we do with our engines propelled by the gasoline motor.

"I was deeply interested in manual training, but could get few hearers on the subject. We had a meeting which was slimly attended. A large deputation of teachers, board members and others visited such a school in St. Louis, but one of the visitors remarked it might be all right but had nothing for us. See what is the status of manual training now. I urge you all to make the most of your advantages. When you are grown you will find many changes and should be ready for them."

The Opportunity.

Dr. C. E. Black, chairman of the high school building committee spoke next in brief. "The board of education is as proud of the new building as a boy with his first pair of pants or a girl with a fine hair ribbon. You all know the details of the building. It cost nearly half a million and it is up to you to prove that it is worth the cost. If you will apply yourselves it is a good investment to educate you only, but it will do far more than this in the years to come.

"The building simply gives you an opportunity to show what is in you and what you may accomplish. Men have achieved greatness without these advantages but it has been by very hard work. I knew an eminent surgeon who fitted himself for the profession, tho he was unable to read at the start, by being detailed when a soldier in the Civil War for five years in a hospital. The building, equipment and faculty afford you great opportunity, will you improve as you should?"

Mayor Crabtree was asked to speak of the high school as a civic asset. "A visitor asked some school children who was the greatest man the world had produced and he said the school superintendent. Asked why he did that he replied he should have said Moses but had an eye to business. The greatest civic asset is the public school. Never was education so valuable as at present. A man seeing the fine equipment of this place remarked he had been born 25 years too soon as he would miss the advantages of such a place. We do not live to our school. You should see to it that you counteract the evils of politics and see that the greatest good is done for the greatest number. I congratulate you on the fine building and equipment and hope you will use it to the best purpose."

Dr. J. R. Harker spoke of the high school as a preparation center. "How important that all here should be of the best for in this audience may be a future governor or even president and today too great advantages are open to women as well as to men. I try to picture you at 40 or 60 years of age. I recently visited a graduate of the Woman's College who lived in California. She was preparing apricots for the market and had it not been for a lame-ness she said she was as spry as ever tho she was 87 years old. She is now 92 and still active. Your physical development must be by no means neglected. Keep your whole bodies clean and well cared for and your speech, minds and conduct pure. Have a purpose in life for there is no royal road to success. There are six hundred high school pupils and 1,800 who will not enter it. In the time the you will be worth as much as the 1,800. Some of you may go to college, say 150 and they will be worth as much as the other 450 and if 100 graduate from college they will be worth as much as all the rest in money and other respects."

The Career of Mr. Bateman President Rammelkamp of Illinois College then told briefly the career of Newton Bateman. "In 1833 at Meredosia a man walked down the gang plank of a boat with five little children and the
